Date: Thursday, December 13, 2018 7:03:40 AM

Welcome to the Future

For too long, human trafficking investigators have been drowning in the fire hose of data. Trying to keep pace with victims and cases, without having to sit in front of a computer all day. Struggling to tap into that data in a way that is effective and seamless.

You don't want more leads, you want better leads. You want to access Artificial Intelligence capabilities on the go, from any device. Gone are the days of too many websites, too much data...and no way to tap into the gold mine of possibilities. We have always envisioned a future where more data actually results in more impact. That future begins now.

Welcome to the new Traffic Jam: Artificial Intelligence for Investigations.

- A completely new visual experience

- New websites regularly added
- Mobile-friendly interface
- All the power of Traffic Jam right in your pocket
- Facial recognition from your mobile device

Go to the Traffic Jam Help page for an in-depth video walk through, to step into the future of investigations.

Don't have access? Email us for a free trial login.

Need help getting started? No problem. We are holding an online training to show you the new Traffic Jam. RSVP to let us know you're coming.
